

THE LIVING
ARCHIVES

THE LIVING ARCHIVES

the learning diaspora space

The online platform for the documentation, archiving and passing on of knowledge from
and for BIPoC communities

www.thelivingarchives.org

What is THE LIVING ARCHIVES?

The Living Archives is about:

- documentating,
- archiving and
- passing on knowledge that has been generated within BIPOC communities.

xart splitta understands The Living Archives as a „Resistant Knowledge Project“ (Patricia Hill Collins). In this context archiving, documenting and sharing knowledge is understood as a decolonial act.

In The Living Archives the concept of the archive is redefined with regard to its colonial, racist context of origin and used as a means of „counter-narrative“. The site will remain a constant work in progress and we look forward to working with a wide variety of actors from our communities in its further development.

contact@thelivingarchives.org

www.thelivingarchives.org is a project by

funded by

Bundeszentrale für politische Bildung